For the last 100 days, Ahlam has helped organize humanitarian aid deliveries to internally displaced persons (IDPs) across the Gaza Strip. She works long hours, managing the UNRWA Marib warehouse in Khan Younis in southern Gaza, supervising inventory and planning the distribution of aid.

The warehouse now operates at three times its previous capacity. She handles the receipt and delivery of food and other supplies and works tirelessly from 7:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.

Ahlam herself has been displaced more than once due to the war and lives in a tent next to the warehouse. She and her family determined to provide relief and support to other displaced and refugees in the near east.

"I have worked with UNRWA for 13 years, including during previous wars and escalations, but I have never witnessed anything as horrific as this ongoing war," says Ahlam. "My work is the only thing that keeps me going and prevents me from collapsing, because I feel I am serving people by providing them with the necessary assistance every day," she adds.

In addition to her work, Ahlam interacts directly with the community. Mothers often approach her, pleading for blankets to keep their children warm. In cases of urgent need and in consultation with the UNRWA Area Officer for Khan Younis, she is sometimes able to provide direct aid. "I may not be able to measure the deep impact of our work, but the gratitude in a mother's eyes when I provide warmth for her children fuels my determination to offer aid and support to those in need," she says.

As of 12 January, up to 1.9 million people, over 85 per cent of the population, have been displaced across the Gaza Strip - many, like Ahlam, multiple times. Some 1.4 million IDPs are sheltering in 154 UNRWA facilities and a total of 1.73 million[1] IDPs are receiving assistance from the Agency.

The average number of IDPs in UNRWA shelters in the middle and southern of the Strip is over 12,000 per shelter, more than four times their

Since the war began, 146 UNRWA colleagues have been (https://donate.unrwa.org/
 the highest death toll for aid workers in the history of the United Nations.

[1] This includes nearly 160,000 IDPs in north Gaza and Gaza City governorates as of 12 October. UNRWA's ability to provide humanitarian support and update data in the above areas is severely restricted. The hostilities, Israeli Forces' evacuation orders and the constant search for safer places meant that people are displaced multiple times. UNRWA shelters often provide assistance to registered Palestine Refugees and other members of the community. There are instances where total numbers could be duplicated due to overlapping registrations, this is why we use
 "estimates" for these figures.
